

Welcome to the 2024 OHSAA State Basketball Tournament

Press Row Seating Charts

Seating charts are created for each session. Media who are not approved to cover the following session must move their belongings to the media work room immediately after the game.

Photographers Not Permitted on the Court During Pregame Introductions

Photographers are not permitted on the court during pregame introductions. Photographers can be behind the team bench, or along the baseline and sideline (off the court).

Press Conference and Media Work Room

Press conferences after each game will take place in the media center, which is located off the ramp leading down the court from the media entrance. The media work room is beside the press conference room.

Media Workspace

Media with an assigned seat who are covering the entire tournament (or the last game of the day) may work at their seats on press row. The media work room is available for those media covering specific sessions. Photographers also may work in the media work room. Wireless internet is available in the arena.

Locker Room Access: Media are not permitted in the team locker rooms at any time.

Postgame Interviews

Media may not conduct interviews on the court unless approved by Tim Stried. Post-game news conferences will take place in the Media Interview Room. Following a brief cooling off period, the head coach and key players will attend. During the semifinals, the winning team will go first.

Television Reporters and Cameras

Television reporters do not have an assigned seat on press row. A seat will be provided if possible. Lights on cameras are not permitted while a game is in progress. Shots from spectator seating areas are not permitted without permission from the OHSAA. Please see previous note regarding postgame TV interviews.

Programs and Media Guides

Official OHSAA programs and media guides are available from the media assistants at the media entrance or in the media workroom.

Pregame Timing Information

Pregame timing information will be provided to broadcast media so they are aware of the timing of such items as the National Anthem, pregame introductions and the exact tip time. The National Anthem will be sung before every session.

Credentials

A reminder to all media that credentials are non-transferable and are intended solely for the use of the designated individual whose name appears on the credential. The OHSAA can request clips or website links to coverage from any media who are granted credentials.
